Connecting Albert County's Community Directory for Rural Albert County

In rural Albert County, if we feel the community needs something, rather than complain about the lack of it, many of us do what we can to make a difference. This is why the area has so many community organizations and services, including Connecting Albert County. The idea of this publication and website began more than eight years ago when a group of us saw the need for a community website, calendar and publication and then worked to make it happen.

To help both newcomers and long-time residents discover the many services offered in the area, we have created a Community Directory for Rural Albert County, with help from Friends of Fundy and support from the NB Community Investment Fund mini-grant.

In the following pages you will find an abridged version of the Community Directory for Rural Albert County. You can find the full directory at our website at www.ConnectingAlbertCounty.org/guide.html.

In the online directory, you will find more details and more active hyperlinks to websites and Facebook pages. You can explore the directory using search functions and the option to sort the information by category. The page also has a link to our new directory of churches. If you find an error or omission, please email info@ConnectingAlbertCounty.org.

I would like to thank the many people who have sent me positive messages since I announced my resignation in the last issue. I have enjoyed meeting and working with so many people who have submitted articles, provided feedback or volunteered with Connecting Albert County over the years. I look forward to passing the baton onto Amanda Rossiter and will do what I can to contribute to an easy transition.

Janet Wallace

Friends of Fundy ~ www.friendsoffundy.ca

The Fundy Guild Inc., referred to as the 'Friends of Fundy,' was incorporated in 1982 as a non-profit charitable organization that exists to enhance public awareness and appreciation of the cultural and natural heritage of Fundy National Park (FNP) and increase engagement in the Rural Upper Bay of Fundy Region.

Friends of Fundy operate three gift shop locations: Outpost East and Outpost West at the entries of FNP and Outpost Alma. These shops host a large selection of nature books, locally crafted jewelry, art, natural products and games, puzzles, souvenirs and FNP merchandise.

Since 2018, the Friends of Fundy have placed special emphasis on regional collaboration to achieve community goals and aspirations throughout the Rural Upper Bay of Fundy region. These aspirations reflect the culture and heritage of the area and its relationship with the landscape – the bedrock of building a thriving local rural lifestyle and economy. Specifically, the Friends work towards a future where:

- Residents and visitors are aware of, supportive and engaged in the ecological restoration, conservation, and regeneration of our area within the UNESCO-designated Fundy Biosphere to achieve a more sustainable ecosystem for the benefit of flora, fauna and people.
- The human culture that has existed in this area for thousands of years is understood, prominent, and celebrated for its historical significance including the role of First Nations people in our local context since the beginning of time to present day.
- The Fundy region is a year-round destination of choice and is recognized on the world stage for its commitment to regenerative practices and stewardship of place.
